

York High School ACP Dual Credit

York Community High School
Elmhurst, Illinois

Indiana University
Bloomington, Indiana

What Is Advance College Project?

- The Advance College Project is a Dual Credit program in which students can earn both high school and college credit simultaneously.
- York High School has partnered with Indiana University in Bloomington, Indiana to offer several of its courses at York.
- Students who choose to take these courses for Indiana University credit are starting their permanent college transcript and college GPA.
- The courses are rigorous since they are the same courses that are being taught on the Indiana University campus.
- ACP courses are taught by York teachers who have been selected and trained by Indiana University as adjunct faculty members.

Advance College Project vs. AP

ACP	AP
Students complete a college course.	Students complete college level coursework.
Students receive a college transcript with a grade from the course.	Students take an exam in May for the possibility of college credit.
Students receive weighted GPA credit.	Students receive weighted GPA credit.
Individual university determines what credit will be awarded based on transcript.	Individual university determines what credit will be awarded based on score on AP exam.
$25 per semester hour + $150 out-of-state ACP course fee.	Approximately $95.00 per AP exam.

Advance College Project Registration

- Students will register for IU credit with their York teachers.
- Indiana will be providing students with individual student and account information, and students should bring this information with them to class every day until confirmation of their registration is received.
- Because these are college classes, students only register for the current semester. Registering for the wrong class during the wrong semester will pose problems.
- Once a student completes online registration and roster verification for for an IU course, there are very specific deadlines to drop the course. If a student enrolls and fails to drop the course on these timelines, the tuition will still be required and the grade will appear on the student's IU transcript.

Advance College Project Registration

September 30
– October 4

Confirmation Rosters

*Distributed to instructors via email

*Students to provide signature beside name beneath appropriate column to confirm intent to earn dual credit or to request administrative removal from IU roster.

*Additional page for eligible students who wish to earn dual credit but were unable to register themselves to add name and request administrative enrollment.

*Instructor signature and date is required on the last page

Confirmation rosters are last opportunity for a student to be added or dropped (without grade reported & tuition charged).

*All eligible students who confirm enrollment or add their name for enrollment will be charged tuition for the course (excepting students eligible for F/R Lunch Assistance) and will have a grade reported to their official IU transcript.

Advance College Project Registration

- Please speak with your student about registration to make sure that they are ready to begin a college transcript and understand the financial commitment.
- There is no difference in the York course whether or not a student registers for IU credit.

--HOWEVER--

- If a student does not sign up for IU credit for the first of 2 sequential courses, the student will not be able to sign up for IU credit in the second of those courses.
 - For example, if a student chooses not to sign up for IU credit in Spanish 3H, the student will not be able to sign up for IU credit in Spanish 4H.

Advance College Project Credit Transferability

- Admission into the ACP program does not guarantee admission to Indiana University; however, transferability is 100% for students who attend IU.
- Transfer policies vary by institution: students have reported that some private and Ivy League schools do not accept their ACP courses from IU.
- In a recent survey of graduated seniors, they reported that the following institutions took all or most of their ACP courses:
 - University of Illinois, Marquette, University of Iowa, University of Wisconsin, St. Louis University, Western Michigan University, Purdue University, The Ohio State University, University of Alabama, North Central College, Elmhurst College, Bradley University, University of Nebraska, and more.
